DEDICATION

The yearbook class of 1979 decided that there would be no one more deserving of our gratitude and appreciation than the yearbook class advisor, Ms. Jayne Zauner.

More goes into a yearbook than most people realize. Organization and consistency must be continually checked, and Ms. Zauner makes sure that all is done correctly.

When deadlines draw near, and nerves grow taunt, Ms. Zauner always remains calm and pulls us through. Without her, we feel, the yearbook would never be as it is today.

We, the yearbook class, would like to say, "Thank-you," to the person who gave more than 100% in time, effort, and energy to our class, Ms. Jayne Zauner

Academics cannot be simply forgotten
 And all of the homework we thought was so rotten.
 We studied so hard each night with friends
 We know it will all pay off in the end 63

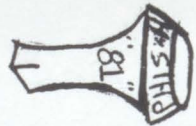

Seniors preparing for the grand event
 The last of 'old school days' are spent.
 Remember those good times, now long gone
 Also those headaches we shared at the dawn. 82

Juniors reminiscing of the prom
 Thinking of all that lies beyond.
 They are ready to take the lead
 Planning the things that they hope will succeed. 99

Sophomores proud of their new class rings
 Wondering what the future will bring.
 Enjoying themselves, and having fun
 Deciding what they will become. 103

Freshmen are eager to be led
 Looking forward to what's ahead.
 Now preparing to move up a step
 Ready and raring, so full of pep 107

As for ads—just take a look!
 Because without them, there'd be no book.
 Thank you so much for helping us out
 You are appreciated, without a doubt 111

Farewell, dear class of '79'
 You'll always be known as super-fine!
 Good luck to you all and may God bless
 Follow your rainbow to the land of success.

STUDENT LIFE

The Student Life section is our newest endeavor, It covers the moments we'll remember forever. When hours are spent and the days are long past We'll think to ourselves, "They did go by fast."

IT WAS

Deb Ludwig and Dave Fisher arrive with anticipation.

The music enhanced the atmosphere.

“Dust In The Wind” was the theme of the 1977-1978 Junior-Senior Prom, which was held in Port Huron at the St. Clair County Community College, on Saturday May 13.

“Infinity” was the band that provided the music that everyone enjoyed. The hall was decorated the evening before the Prom by the Junior Prom Staff. The scenic artwork was originally created by Theresa Lapensee and Kathy Kollinger.

Although the Prom was scheduled to last from 8:00 p.m. until 11:30 p.m., the band continued to play until 12:00 a.m.

A photographer from H.A. Powell Studios was present to take portraits of the couples in front of the decorative fountain.

The Junior class of 1978 is proud to be the first to have sponsored the first financially successful Prom.

In conclusion, the Junior class gives many thanks to the sponsors who took the time to make the Prom such a success: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Facione, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kriesch, Mr. and Mrs. David Lesinski, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Mrozinski, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Nowakowski.

Paul, Terry, John, and Linda share a memorable event.

MAGIC

Very funny! said Kelly Chapman to Bill Romatz.

We could have danced all night!

Deb Bourgois and Don Dirven can feel the magic in the air.

Lynn Morgan, Doug Hartsock, Deb Nash, and Dave Birchmeir couldn't wait for the band to start.

Thanks again Sponsors!

HOW SENIORS SHOW TALENT

Chuck Wahls, Phillis LeTarte, Kevin Billingsley, Beth Schott, and Steve Cummings take a chance to watch the audience instead of the audience watching them.

"How could I cause so much trouble—just because I wanted to go to the dance?" asks Hildegard Dolson. The answer was in "We Shook The Family Tree," a play put on by the '78 Seniors. In the lead role was Margie Lozen as Hildegard, a senior looking for a prom. John Jelinek played her father. As Mrs. Dolson was Penny Moran, a firm but understanding mother. Little sister Sally was Phillis LeTarte. Matt Dolan portrayed Hildegard's big brother Bob, and Chuck Wahls was her younger brother Jimmy. Playing Paige was Dawn Connelly, the little girl who liked to play postman. Bob's heartthrob, Ellie May was played by Terri Tatton. Beth Schott, played Jill, Ellie May's friend. Freddie Shermer, a boy that wears knickers, was played by Kevin Billingsley. Alan Meno was the dynamic Mr. Shermer, and Esther Anderson played Freddie's mother.

A bass in the bathtub, an electric wormer, beauty mud, a burglarized house, love letters mailed twice, and a missing pair of pants, all add up to "We Shook The Family Tree."

In charge of sound effects and lighting was Earl Baranowski. The play was directed by Ms. Zauner with the aid of student directors Peggy Lozen and Renee Cunnings.

Esther Anderson walks around back-stage rehearsing her lines for her up-coming part.

During commercial rehearsal, Kevin Billingsley and John Jelinek fight over the use of the microphone.

It's Christmas Time

At the 1978 Christmas Ball Rhonda Conlon, Kelly Conlon, and her date Jeff Sabastian try to carry on an amusing conversation above the amplified music.

Memphis students sway to the music.

Debbie Brown and Scott McCormick stop for a moment to rest after a great night of dancing.

Al Winters and Barb Huber relax comfortably.

Blue! Green! Yellow! Were the rhythmic flashing lights that accented the 1978 Christmas Dance put on by the Student Congress on December 16. The dance was semi-formal, and began at 8 O'clock and ended at 11 O'clock.

"Magnum" which consisted of four Armada High School students, was the band that entertained for the evening. They provided the spectacular lighting.

The sponsors included Mr. & Mrs. Rinke, Mr. & Mrs. Patterson, and Mr. & Mrs. Nowakowski. Our special thanks is given to them for contributing their time and effort to make the Christmas Dance.

DRESS-UP ADD SPIRIT

Mike Kasperski and Paula Dunsmore consider themselves prom rejects.

"I hope they let me in class like this," says Junior Diane Dolan.

Sophomore Darlene Fisher seems proud of their "Springy" hall decorations.

"Oh, shucks!" says Junior Connie Dalecki.

Theresa Lapensee flashes her "child-like" grin.

The "Four Seasons" was chosen by the Student Council to be the theme for the 1978-1979 Homecoming Week Competitions.

The Seniors, given first choice, took Winter. They placed first in Dress-up and third in Hall competitions.

The Juniors with their theme of Autumn placed third in Dress-up and second in Hall competitions.

The Sophomores, who chose Spring, placed fourth in both the Dress-up and Hall competitions.

The Freshmen were given the theme of Summer. They placed second in Dress-up, but received the extra five points for their participation on Blue and Gold Day. They also received first place on their Hall decorations.

According to many faculty members and students the Hall decorations were the best in years.

Both Student Congress and the students wish to extend their appreciation to those teachers who helped co-ordinate Hall Decorations and Dress-up.

. . . "Sexy" Billy Heileg, Dan Bergen, and Jerry Amburgey leading a cheer.

The annual powderpuff game was played as usual this year but because of some disagreement between the teams, no points for this event went toward Homecoming Competition.

A thank-you from the girls goes to the coaches. For the senior class they were Mr. Reygaard, Don Dirven and Sean Marnon. Lee Sopha, Al Smith and Calvin Gross helped the Junior girls. The sophomore powderpuffers were aided by Reggie Moore and Mike Owens. Class sponsor, Mr. Lesinski, and Kirt Konyha coached the Freshmen girls.

FRESHMEN TAKE FIRST IN

Placing second was the Junior float.

The Seniors took fourth on their float.

FLOAT COMPETITION

The Homecoming Parade began at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, October 13, 1978. The Memphis Police Department and the Rescue Squad led the parade from All Saints Church to the football field. Other participants in the parade were the Brownies, Boy Scouts, Memphis Fire Department, the Senior Court, the Underclassmen Kings and Queens, the 1977 Homecoming King and Queen, and the high school floats.

Not only did the Freshmen, with their theme of "Summer Daze", take first in the float competition, but they also captured the 1978 Homecoming Spirit Jug.

"Make It A Cardinal Nightmare" was the theme of the Junior float that came in second place.

The Sophomores float theme of "Crack the Cardinals" took third place.

And finally, the Seniors with their theme of "Win-ter-Night" placed fourth in the float competition.

The students of Memphis High School wish to extend their appreciation to the sponsors, people who lent cars for the Kings, Queens, and Court, to the parents who allowed float-building at their homes, and to the business supporters who helped make Homecoming.

The Freshmen float placed first in the competition.

float came in third place.

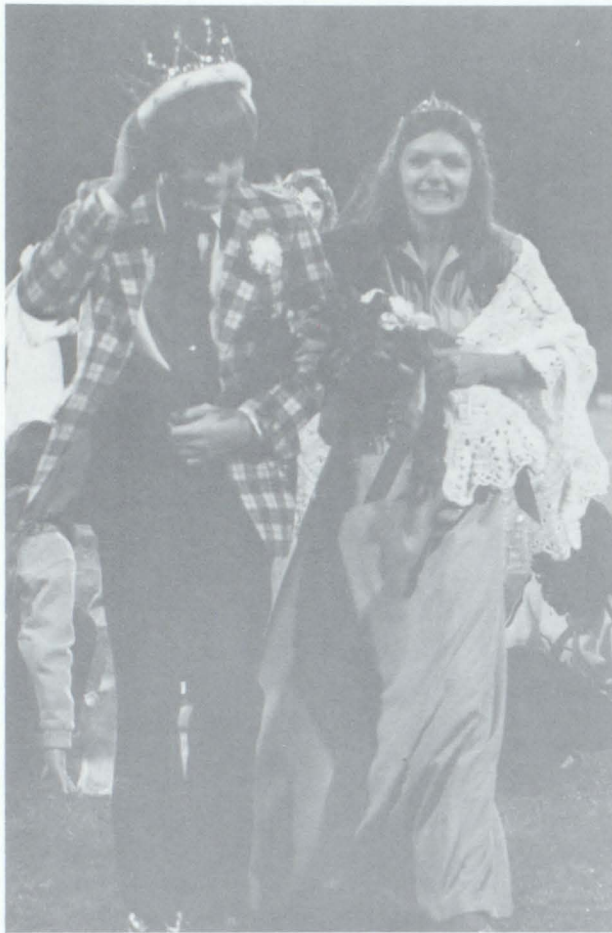

The 1977 Homecoming Queen Terri Tatton and King Jack Smith were the finale of this year's parade.

DON AND SANDY REIGN

Every year Homecoming Week presents all students the difficult decision of voting for who they feel their new King and Queen should be.

This year the eight Seniors the students had to choose from were: Debbie Bourgois, Carmen Berlinger, Lynn Morgan, Sandy Rucinski, Rick Fisher, Don Fowler, Scott Kirkendall, and Steve Wroblewski.

On the crisp evening of Friday, October 13 the Memphis High School students chose Don Fowler and Sandy Rucinski to reign as 1978 Homecoming King and Queen.

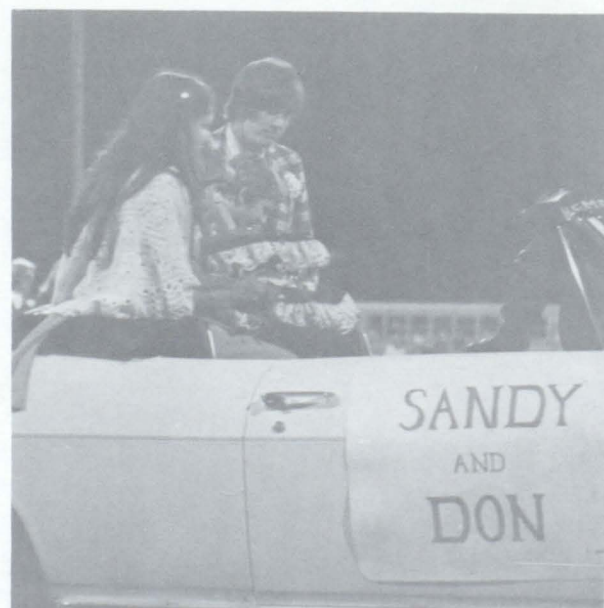

Friday, October 13 didn't prove to be bad luck for newly crowned Don and Sandy.

The Student Congress has been raising money for an activity board for 5 years. It finally reached its goal and proud members pose before it. Right: The job must be done, and Karen Jakubowski agrees to toil.

ATTAINS GOALS

The Student Congress of 1979 started the school year by taking on the annual task of creating homecoming week. This included organizing and judging all class competitions, holding pep night, and getting the parade rolling. The hectic week passed, and the group took on new chores. The activity board was erected, a hall telephone installed, assemblies held, and dances given. With the help of their advisor, Mrs. F. Nowakowski, (left) the group held more events than councils in recent history. Left: Cindy Yeak represents the Senior Class.

The 1979 Memphian features such new attractions as eight additional pages, an academic section, a student life section, and a mylar cover.

The journalism class organized fund raising projects in order to pay for these additions.

The editors have learned a variety of modern techniques for copy writing and layout style.

Editor-in-chief Kathy Frisby and Assistant Editor Lori Albert attended a summer yearbook camp and have shared their newly acquired skills with the entire class.

WHAT'S NEW

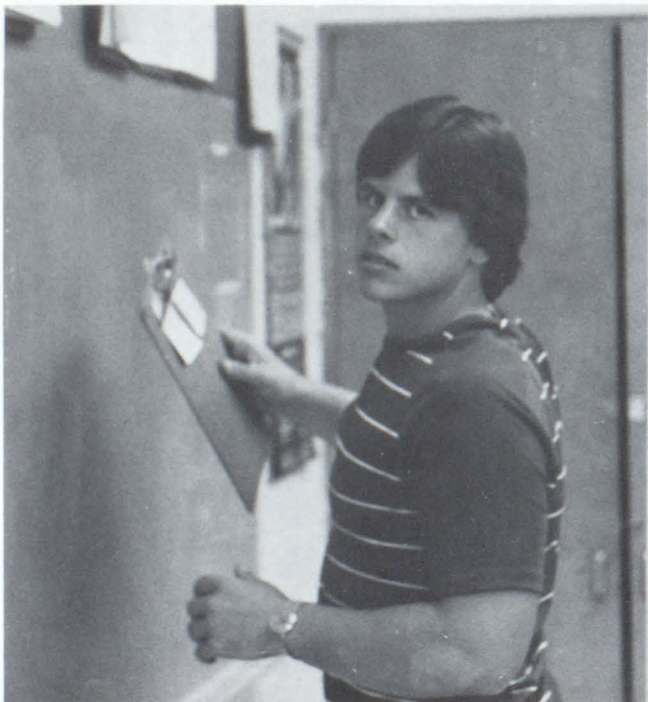

The JACKET JOURNAL Staff, comprised of all new members, spent the first few months learning basic skills including interviewing techniques, news writing, proper editing and layout styles. The first edition of the newspaper was printed as a Christmas special. The following issues came out approximately twice a month.

FRIENDS FROM AFAR

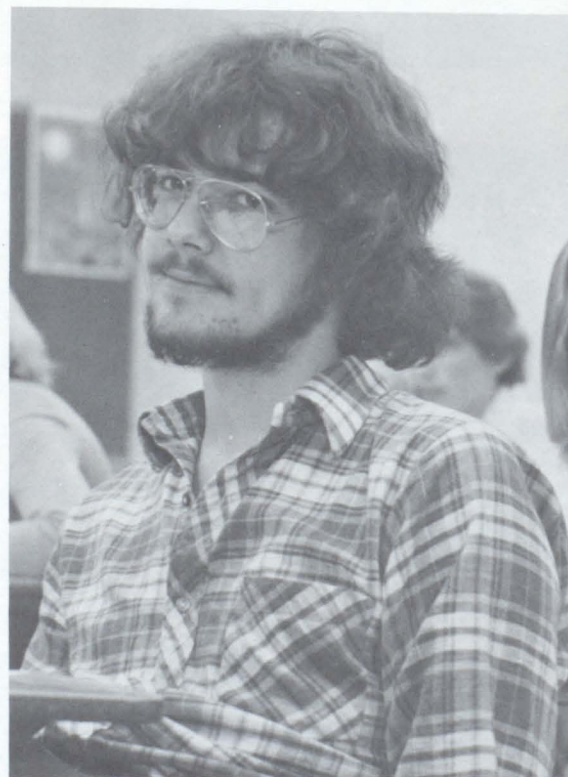

Markus Fischer age 17 arrived from Geneva, Switzerland on August 19, 1978. He is presently living with the Bill Zukas family. He is a senior at Memphis High School. One thing Markus dislikes about America is the way "people refuse to take off their blinders." Markus likes the warmth of the people.

Tarja Hyvonen age 17 arrived from Oulu, Finland on August 15 to Memphis, Michigan. She is presently living with the Ellwin Chapman family. She is a senior at Memphis High. One of her favorite things to do is to go watch football games.

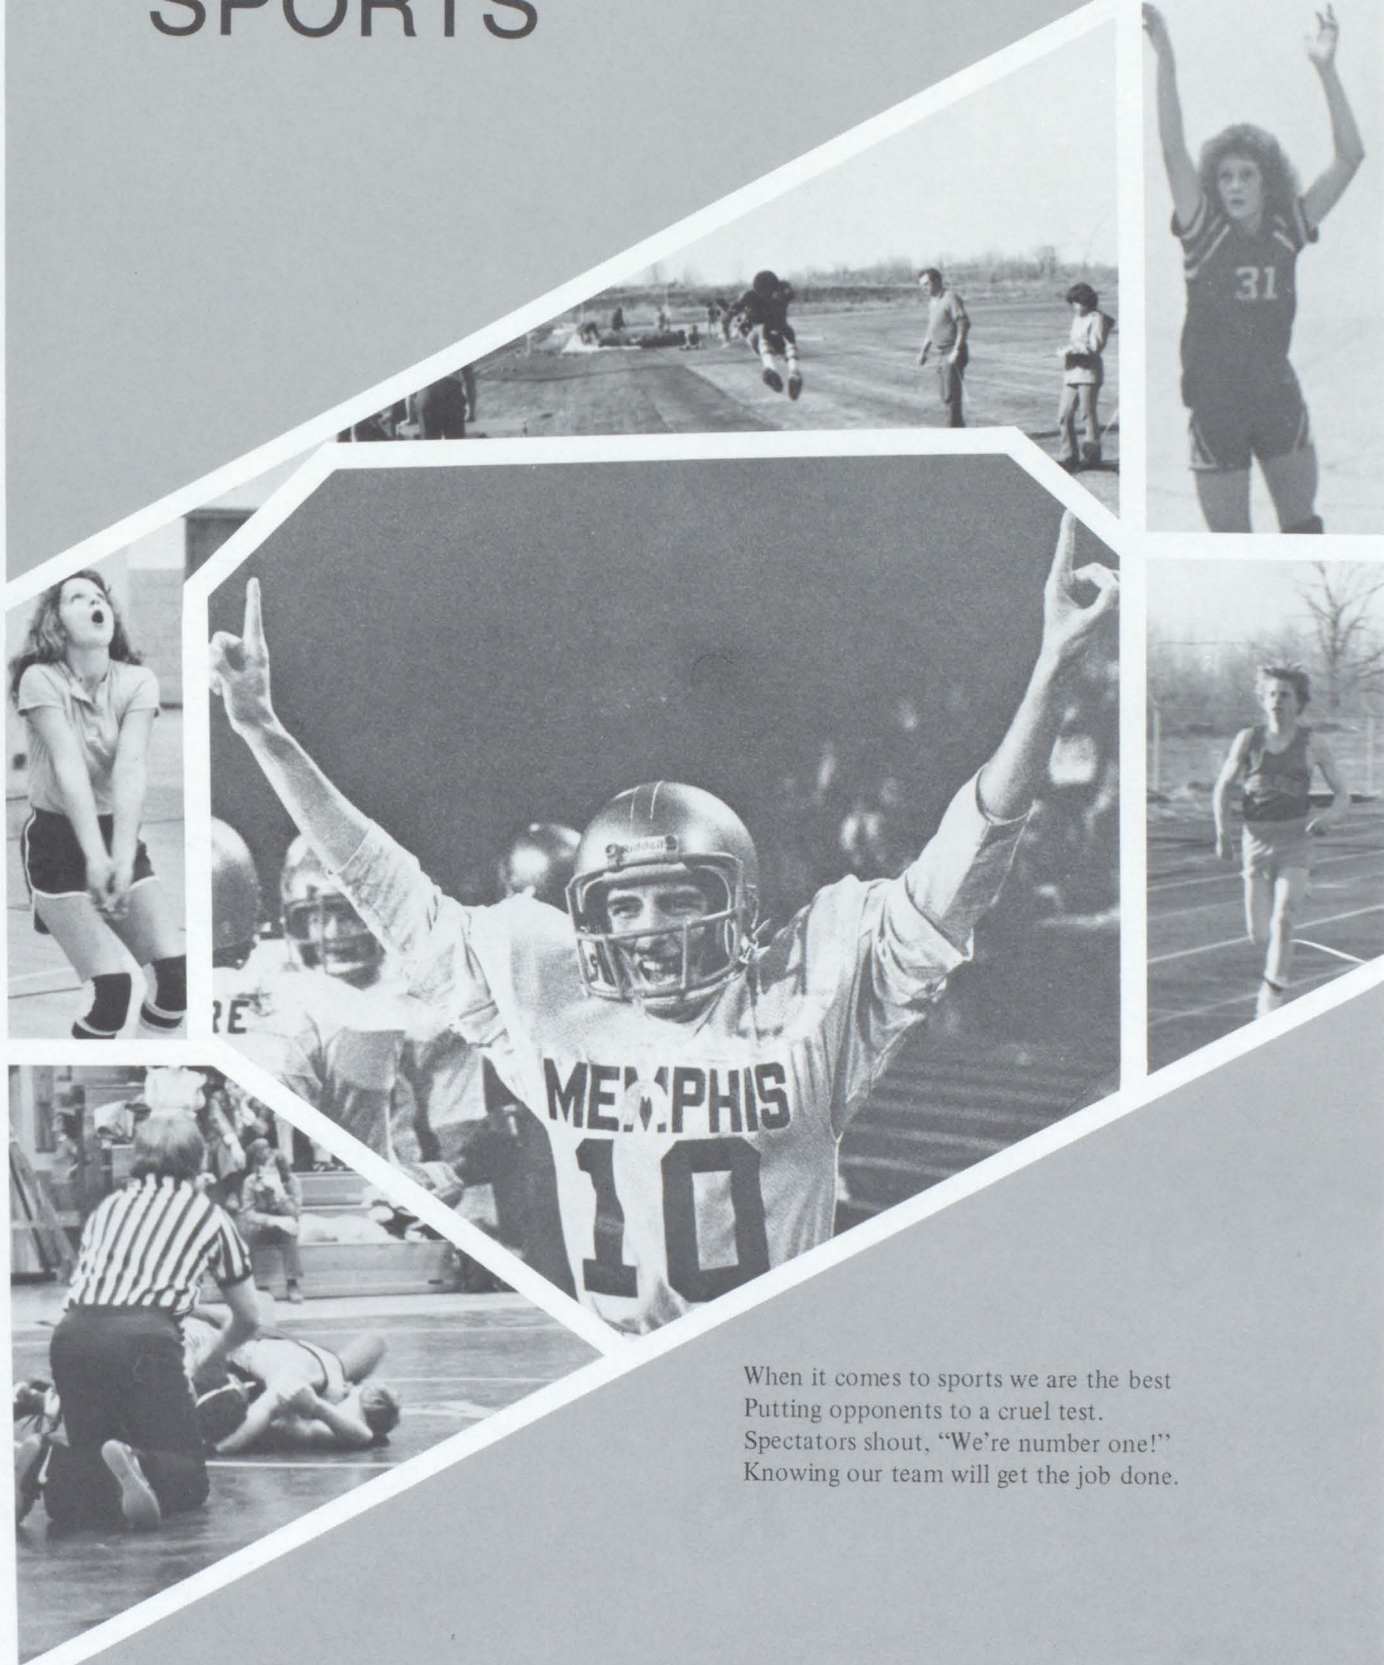

Tarja works on her 3-dimensional project.

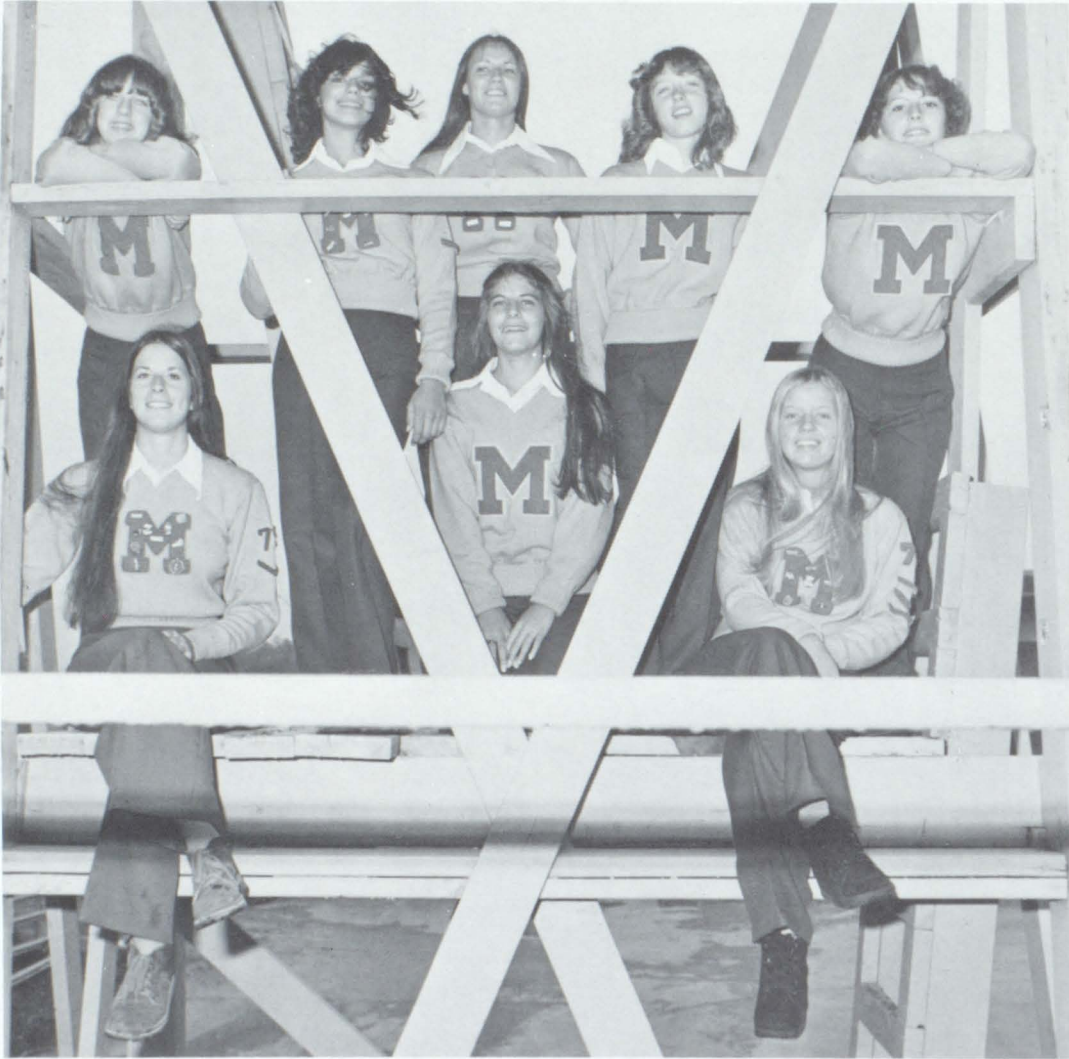

Markus listens to a child abuse discussion.

Cooking steaks, making posters, creating human tunnels, throwing footballs and basketballs at games, attending Kingston Competition, and cheering to their hearts desire, are most of the acts the Varsity Cheerleaders perform.

With Captain Jenny Mentz and Co-Captain Debbie Bourgois, the squad attended Kingston Competition December 2, and took fourth place. Having Mrs. Zukas for their sponsor helped the squad a great deal. Without her help, the girls would not have been able to hold projects to raise money for new uniforms.

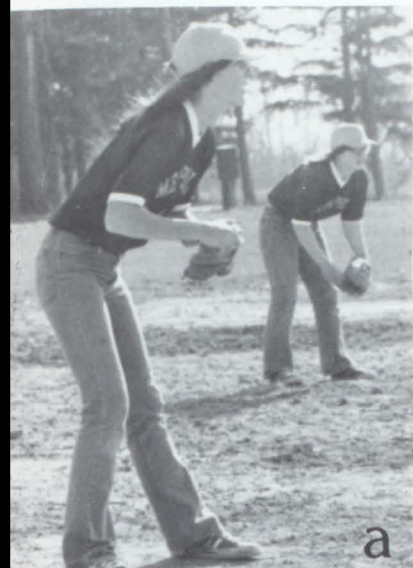

They especially enjoyed cheering for Memphis this year, because not everyone gets the chance to cheer at the State Playoffs.

HIT, RUN, AND SLIDE

The 1978 baseball season was frustrating to the entire team! The two most contributing factors toward the losing season was the lack of indoor practice and a key injury to All Macomb County pitcher, Mike Bourgois.

The future, however, looks very talented players returning for the 1979 season and Coach Clement's J.V. team coming off a championship year.

DESPITE FACILITIES

Looking out your window, you may have seen a mob of girls panting their way down the street. Who are these girls? The determined trackwomen of Memphis High. The girls had another fine season by placing 2nd in the league and 4th in regionals. Good job!

Team captain, Deb Winn, smiles upon the team and season. Yvonne Conlon gives a daring glance to her competitors of the discus.

"How sweet it is!" Debbie Winn and Margie Nowakowski are relieved after another 440 relay victory.

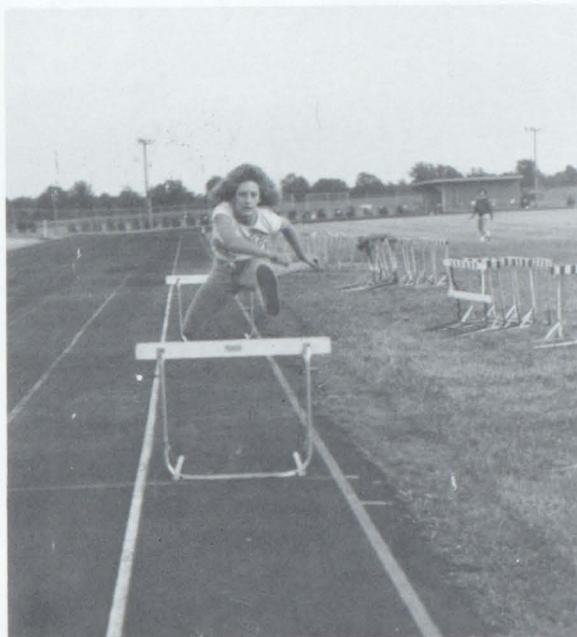

Returning Letterpeople: Nancy Wessel, Beth Schott, Deb Winn, Margie Nowakowski, Cathy Lueth, Yvonne Conlon, Diane Dolan, Karen Jakubowski, Anita Geiger, Roslyn Price, Monica Bishop.

HONEYBEES RACE

State finalists celebrate after placing in several events at the state meet in Haslett.

Hard work and determination are what make Anita Geiger a star hurdler.

Nerves are taunt at the starting line. Amy Cunnings gets ready to run the 440.

Roslyn Price takes a moment to relax before long jumping to a league record.

Nancy Wessel says, "Come join our track team. It's loads of fun!"

Oh No! Those running rules are too confusing. Diane Dolan listens intently.

JACKETS RUN

The 1978 Track season was a definite improvement over the '77' season. The team ended the season with twenty-eight participants as opposed to the ten the previous year. This added man power enabled the Jacket thin-clads to defeat four opponents in seven attempts of the abbreviated schedule.

Pat Lueth was the team's leading scorer, racking up points in discus, long jump, 220 yd. dash, and high jump. Lueth was backed up with solid scoring by Sophomore Benny George (second leading scorer), Juniors Tom Wilson, Paul Jelinek, and Frank Bishop, and Senior Glenn Salada. George had a very good year in the high jump. His leaps of six feet and higher were good enough for a third place medal in the STA league meet, second in the State Regional Track Meet and qualified him for the State Finals.

Everyone performed well and had much fun. Many goals were accomplished. With nineteen returning lettermen the 1979 season is a promising one.

The track team nervously waits to run their events at an Armada track meet.

Kevin Mazur and Kevin Billingsley concentrate on crossing the finish line in the hurdles.

Glenn Salada hands the baton to Kevin Burns in the 880 relay.

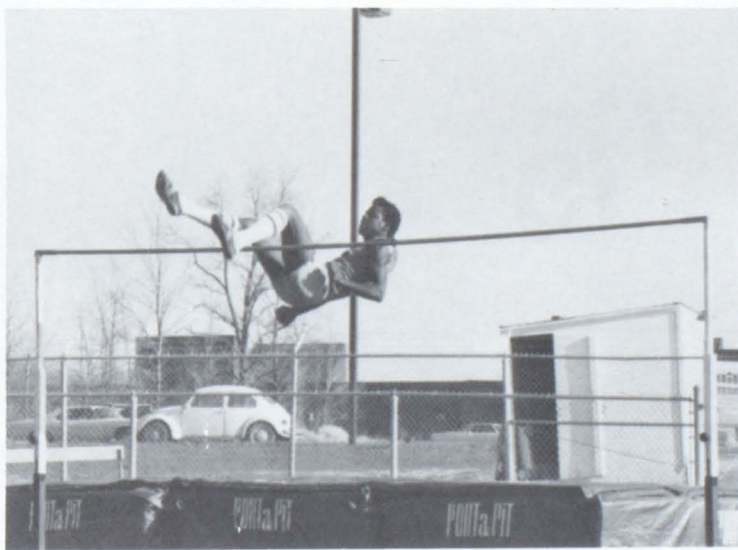

Coach Bacholzky and a few players watch the 440 run.

Frank Bishop takes 1st in the 880 relay against Armada. Memphis took second, third and fourth places as well.

Thrill of Victory! Tom Wilson kicks to win the mile against Armada.

Benny George performs a high jump, one of many which qualified him for the State meet.

The Memphis Linkers

The 1978 Varsity Golf Team was an interesting experience. It was a team composed of many first year golfers. However, with hard work these young men did have a some-what successful season.

Our league record of 12 and 9 was good enough for the third place finish, our overall won and lost record was 14 and 9.

I am looking forward to next season with high expectations and I know the returning team members are too. No one was satisfied with the third place finish and they have already dedicated themselves to do better next year.

VARSITY RECORD

New Haven's Derrick Thacker attempts to stop Larry Goralski from getting two.

The Memphis Yellow Jackets, coached by Ken Helinski, are enjoying their most successful season of the decade. The team features strong rebounding and an excellent fast break. Senior Sean Marnon is the team playmaker and leader. Sophomore Al Powers, with assists, has helped to lead a balanced scoring attack that has four players averaging nine or more points a game. Calvin Gross who is six feet one inch and one hundred and ninety pounds, and Mike Wilcox who is six feet three inches have helped give Memphis an edge on the boards during the regular season.

New Haven tries tough defensive pressure but it wasn't enough as the Jackets went on to win the game 78 to 76.

Yellow Jackets Sting

The Memphis Yellowjackets had a very successful season this year with a nine and one record. They were the top team in the S.T.A.

Memphis started the season off by upsetting Lutheran North in a non-league game by a score of 20-12. This game only fired up Memphis for the Brown City game which Memphis swept away with a score of 20-18. The third game of the season, New Haven vs. Memphis, was 50-30, another Memphis win. Richmond, a really big win for us, put the Yellowjackets in first with a league record of 3-0. Richmond stood 3-1 with Dryden and Armada, but that didn't bother Memphis. The Jackets ran over both teams with a 44-13 score in the Dryden game and a 44-0 score in the Armada game. Memphis moved on to beat Yale in their last League game with a score of 44-0. However, Memphis was not done with football. They advanced to the quarter-finals, where the Yellowjackets stung third-ranked Homer in a 37-0 victory. From there, Memphis proceeded to the semi-finals against Grand Rapids Forest Hills Northern, which was Memphis' last game, with a score of 14-20.

teammates are for the top.

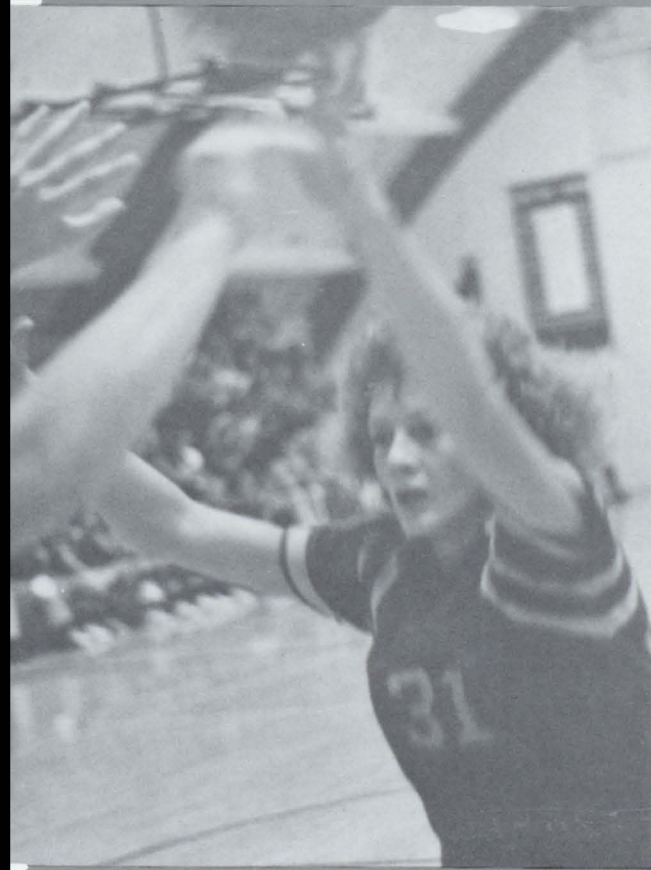

"Leaping, electric-haired" Anita Geiger puts defensive pressure on an Armada opponent.

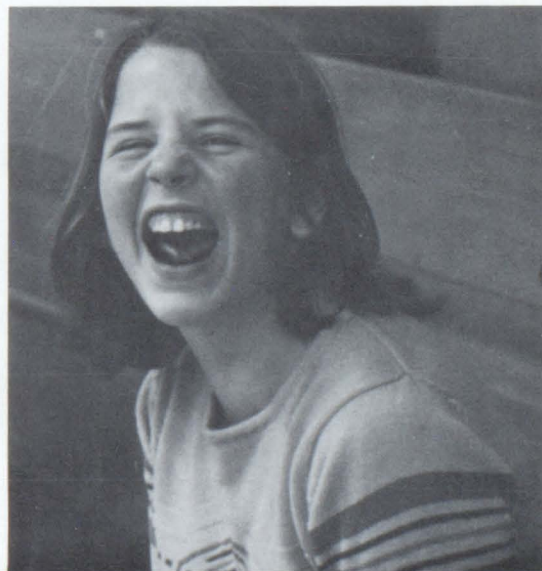

The Varsity Girls' Basketball team finished another fine season in 1978. The Honeybees finished the year in third place behind Armada and Capac with a 12-4 league record and 14-7 over-all record.

Although the record doesn't indicate a championship team, Mr. Helinski called them the best team he has ever coached in M.H.S., in the respect that they did not have any conflicts, and that they worked together very well. He credits this to the leadership of his four seniors Anita Geiger, Margie Nowakowski, Sandy Rucinski, and Mary Jo Swidersky.

The outlook for next year is bright says Helinski. We have eight girls returning to the squad. (Taken from the Jacket Journal)

My goal for this season was to win our second consecutive league championship, and to surpass last year's accomplishments in tournaments. Volleyball is a sport that has been gaining more recognition in recent years, and there has been much improvement in the caliber of play in the leagues. I am sure Memphis will continue to excel in league competition.

MEMPHIS GRAPPLERS

Steve Peters looks on with his team while each individual is introduced at a home meet with Imlay City.

The referee watches closely as Ed Burg pins his opponent from Imlay City.

This year's wrestling team almost wasn't because of a lack of a coach. But with the help of the Principal Ronald Mrozinski, the sport was kept alive. Steve Peters, a former MHS wrestler, coached the team while Mr. Mrozinski headed the running and weight lifting. The team was a young one with only four Seniors. This will help the team in future matches, having more experienced wrestlers.

The Freshmen Cheerleading squad exhibited their school spirit by cheering at the girls' basketball games. They are sponsored by Mrs. Virginia Zukas and the co-captains are Karen Dishinger and Ramey Kalvaitis. The girls raised money by selling mums at homecoming and selling candy bars. With the money earned, uniform accessories were purchased.

The year was very successful. We had 9 wins and 4 losses. Our losses came at the hands of Armada, Yale, and Brown City. We tied for League Champs with Richmond. Two surprising and successful wins were against Richmond.

FULL OF GOOD CHEER!

This year's Junior Varsity Cheerleaders, with captain Jayne Fillingier and co-captain Michelle Miller, raised enough money to buy new uniforms for the basketball season. The uniforms are bright yellow featured with a megaphone and the letters M.H.S. on the sweater. To raise the money, the girls held bakesales at the bank and sold candybars. But most of all they helped to cheer our team on to a successful season.

ACADEMICS

Academics cannot be simply forgotten
And all of the homework we thought was so rotten.
We studied so hard each night with friends
We know it will all pay off in the end.

ESSENTIAL INGREDIENTS

High School Principal:
Mr. Ronald Mrozinski

The administration and the Board of Education wishes to extend to the graduating class of 1979 its warmest congratulations for their success in completing 13 years of formal education. This is the first of many important goals which you shall face and achieve during your lifetime. It is our hope that your future goals will be made easier by preparation you have received.

THE LITERARY

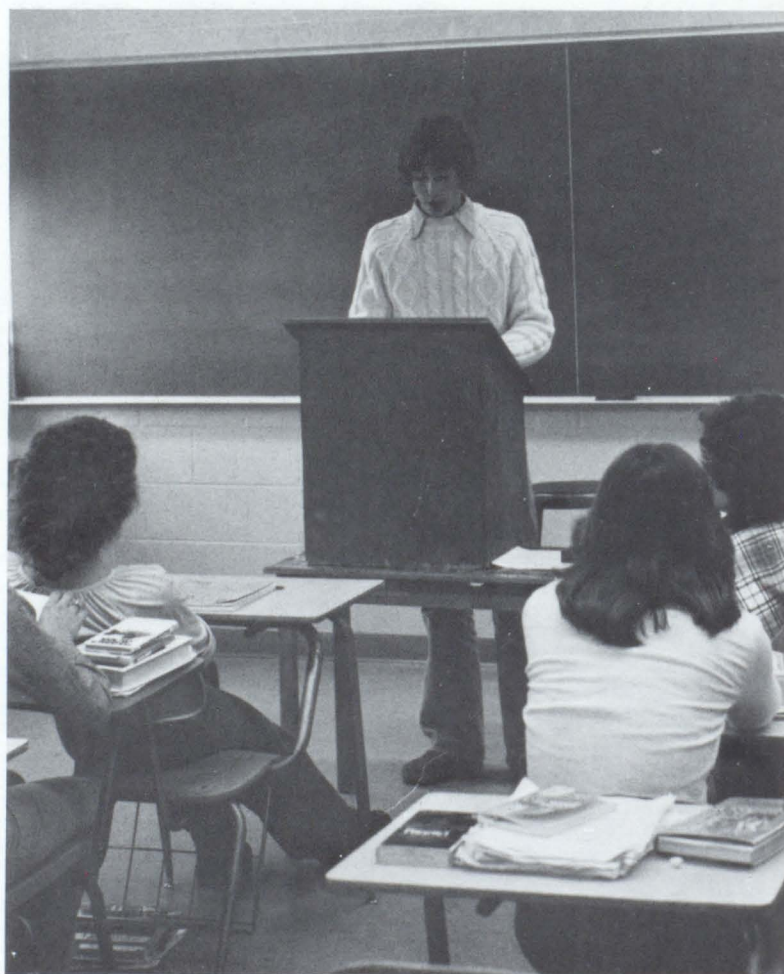

Michelle Birchmeir searches for her lost place during a speech for Mr. Bruman.

Trusty Mrs. Beaudrie guarding an escape route at the Powder Puff game.

Ken Regan seems intensely interested in English 10.

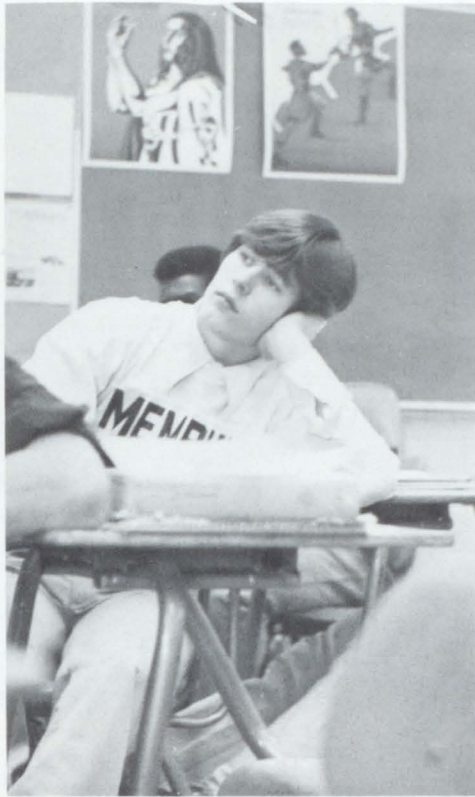

College Prep student, Donn Dirven, refers to his notes during a five minute speech for Mr. Bruman.

This year's English department consists of Mrs. Beaudrie teaching English 9, 10, and 11, Mr. Bruman teaching College Prep, English 10, and 11 and Ms. Zauner teaching Journalism, English 9, and 11. Also Mrs. Patterson teaches English 9, and Mr. Swain teaches an English 10 class.

The various assignments for the English classes include speeches, compositions, literature, grammar, vocabulary, term papers and demonstrations. In Journalism the students learn news writing, interviewing, investigating and copy editing.

CHALLENGE

Taking a break, to flash a gleaming smile, is Don Onesi.

Mrs. Beaudrie: our 23 year English veteran.

Mr. Bruman: faithful in English for 12 years.

While Darlene Fisher seems fed up with such an assignment, Mike Owens pretends to enjoy it, and Barb Huber thinks its a big joke.

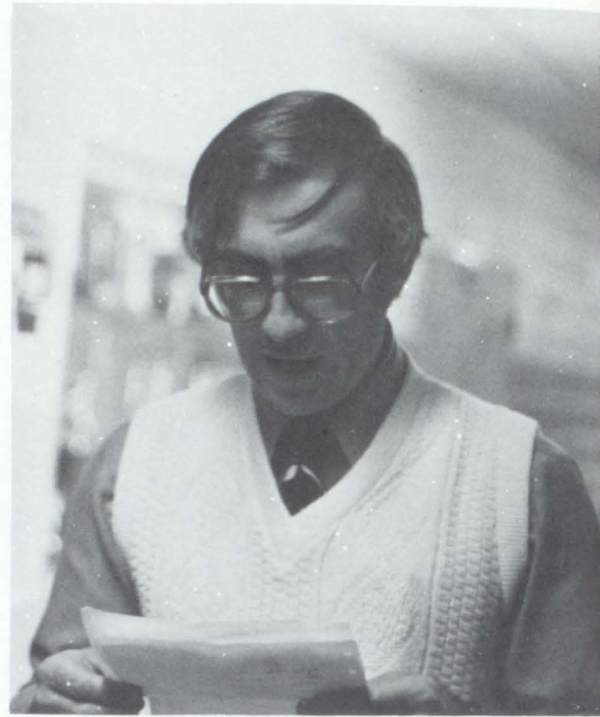

Ms. Zauner: getting a firm grip after 4 years.

THE PAST AND PRESENT

Mrs. Jeffery pauses a moment to dream up her next dasturdly assignment.

Mr. Kriesch takes a last minute look at his lesson plan.

American History students obtain information in the library for their homework assignment.

The history curriculum includes a variety of courses. American History and Government, taught by Mrs. Jeffery, give a complete view of the United States. A World Cultures class that gives students a taste of the exotic and foreign, was taught by Mr. Swain. Michigan History for a closer look at our state, Modern Western Civilization that gives full accounts of past and present world relations, and World Religions that introduces various religious cultures, were taught by Mr. Kriesch who also taught a World Cultures during first semester.

COME ALIVE . . .

The second hour government class shows their intent interest in their new Time Magazine.

The ingenious mind of "Baby Sparrow" (alias Ken Duncan) takes a moment to drift off into the galaxies.

Computing the Problems!

Mrs. Nowakowski

Challenging student's minds are this years Math Department Staff. The math program at Memphis High School is complimented by two capable teachers, Mrs. Frances Nowakowski and Mr. Lewis Covell.

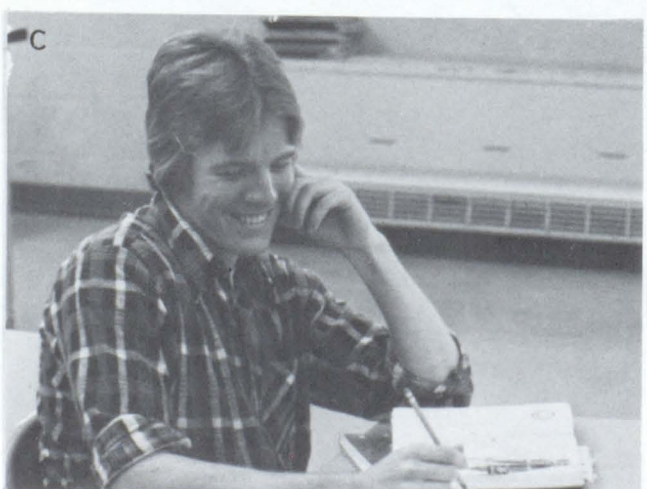

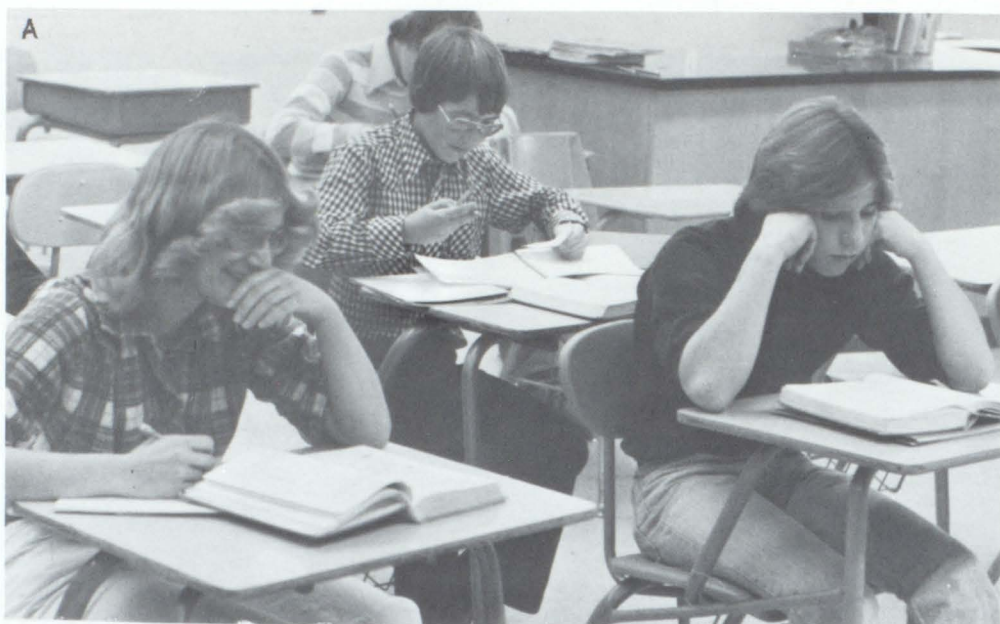

Mrs. Nowakowski is presently presenting to her classes the techniques of tackling problems in Math 10, Algebra 1, and in Geometry.

This year, Mr. Covell is instructing classes in Algebra 1 and 2, and in Math 9.

Thank you for promoting more developed ideas in the world of math.

Mr. Covell

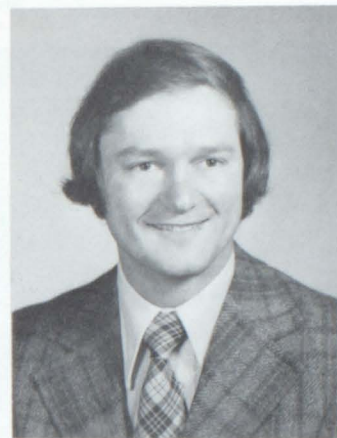

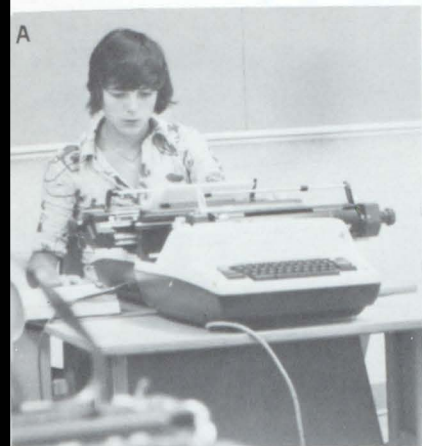

A—Sue Niezgoda gets a bigger laugh out of Mrs. Nowakowski's assignment than Tracy Dunsmore and Randy Johnson seem to.

B—Florence Wessel, Mary George, and Marietta Martin look in amazement as Chuck Gravilla shouts an answer in Mr. Covell's class.

C—"Oh," exclaims Junior Paul McCarty, "This one's a snap!"

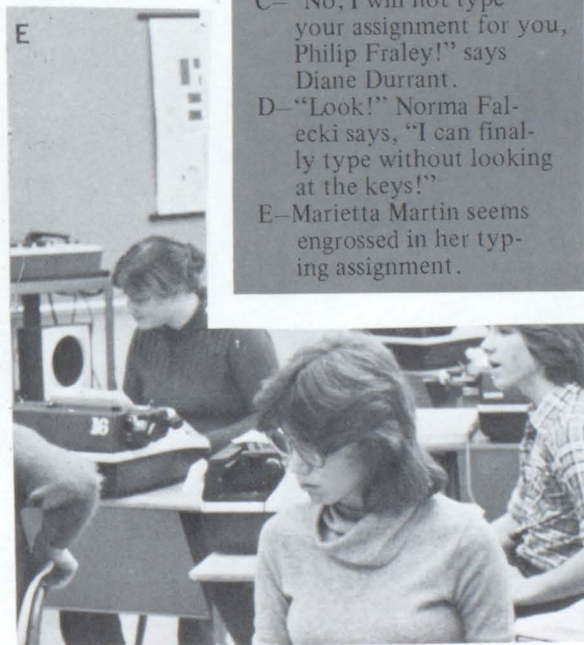

The Business World!

Mr. Delekta

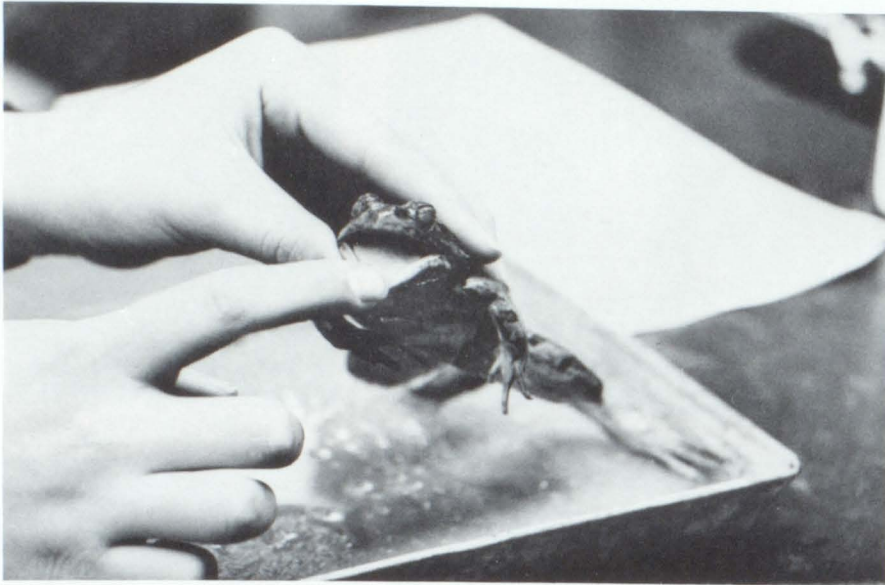

Today a student needs a basic education in business to survive in the world of work. Mr. Delekta has the job of preparing students for what lies ahead. He is presently teaching courses of General Business, Accounting and Typing.

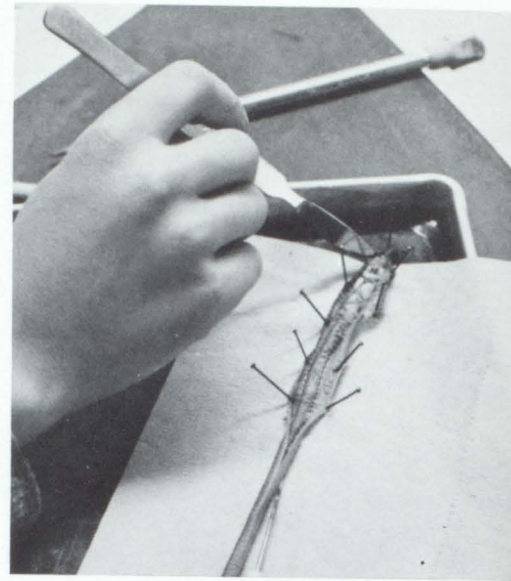

- A—"Oh No!" Bill Romatz wonders, "Where did that question mark come from?"
- B—K-E-V-I-N, That's my name! Says Kevin Winingham.
- C—"No, I will not type your assignment for you, Philip Fraley!" says Diane Durrant.
- D—"Look!" Norma Falceki says, "I can finally type without looking at the keys!"
- E—Marietta Martin seems engrossed in her typing assignment.

Mr. Clement explains to students Don Burgen, Paula Dunsmore, and Becky Cameron the proper technique of dissecting a worm.

WORLD OF SCIENCE

Mr. Dean Clement
Biology, Advanced Biology, Chemistry

During the 1978-79 school year students explored various areas of the scientific world. The Chemistry students learned about chemical reactions, atoms, and molecules.

The Chemistry class is for those students who wish to go to college.

Advanced Biology students studied plants, had labs and dissected higher organisms to increase their Biological knowledge.

The Biology students dissected worms, crayfish, and frogs to learn their bodily functions.

In 9th grade science Ms. Bilicki and Mr. Lesinski prepared their students for future science classes by studying things such as chemistry and the various systems of the human body.

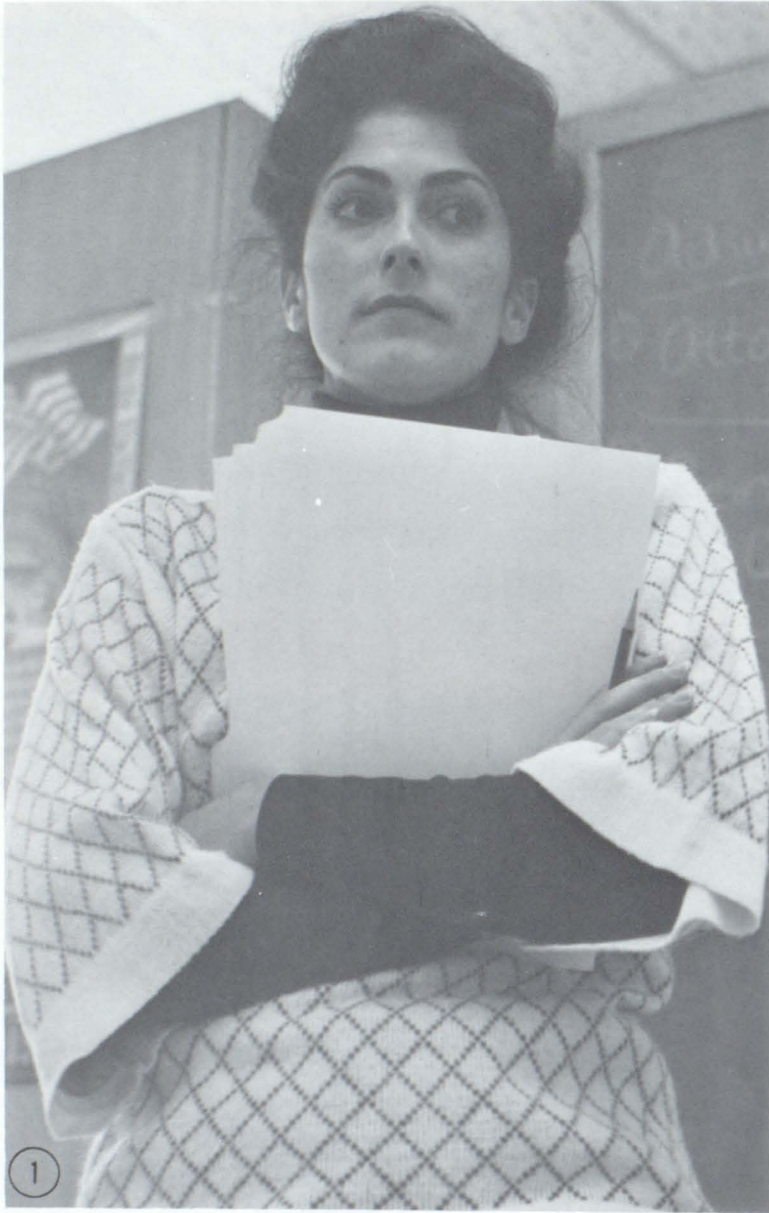

Ms. Constance Bilicki
9th grade Science

Shelly Gurzick uses her surgical ability to dissect an earthworm while Dan Burgen supervises.

The Ways of Life

Family Life is the main headline given to Psychology, Sociology, Clothing, and Foods courses. These courses were previously taught by Mrs. Patterson and are presently taught by Miss Cook who took over these classes in the beginning of the 2ND semester.

1) Mrs. Patterson the 1ST semester teacher, lectures her psychology class on Mental Retardation.

2) Karen Jakubowski in psychology is suprised by the camera during a class discussion on the Childrens' Shelter.

3) Debbie Bourgois in clothing is preparing the jerseys for our football team.

"Building" Our Minds

1) Scott McCormick cuts a board to size for his project.

2) Frank Bishop works on the shop raffle table.

3) Mr. Lesinski helps Marie Wessel with her drafting.

"I'm very pleased with the students' attitudes toward work and through our combined efforts we've achieved an accident-free program." Mr. Lesinski stated.

The students showed this effort and ability in the projects they completed.

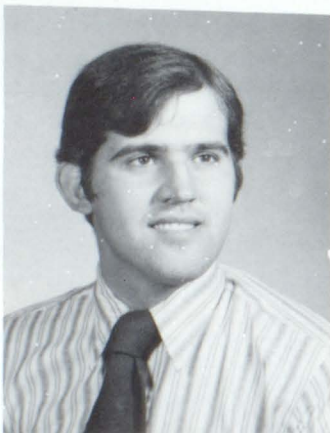

Book shelves and storage units were constructed for the elementary, middle, and high schools by the shop classes. Students completed individual projects like paper towel racks, picture frames, gun racks, lamps, tables and speaker cabinets.

Some money for Industrial Arts needs was earned during the annual shop raffle. Mr. Lesinski said the effort was "successful." Students made the prizes and sold the tickets. The raffle project provided students with work experience for their abilities & stimulated more interest in completing their own projects.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Ms. Bilicki

Mr. LaFave

To make the gym locker rooms desirable, many improvements were made. Some improvements included the carpeting, and removal of old lockers in the boys locker room and the painting of both locker rooms.

Also another P.E. improvement, to the pleasure of both the teachers and the students, was the separation of the ninth grade boys' and girls' gym classes.

Among the activities the gym classes participate in are such sports as soccer, basketball, gymnastics, volleyball, handball, badmitten, football, baseball, and track.

AIDING OUR FUTURE

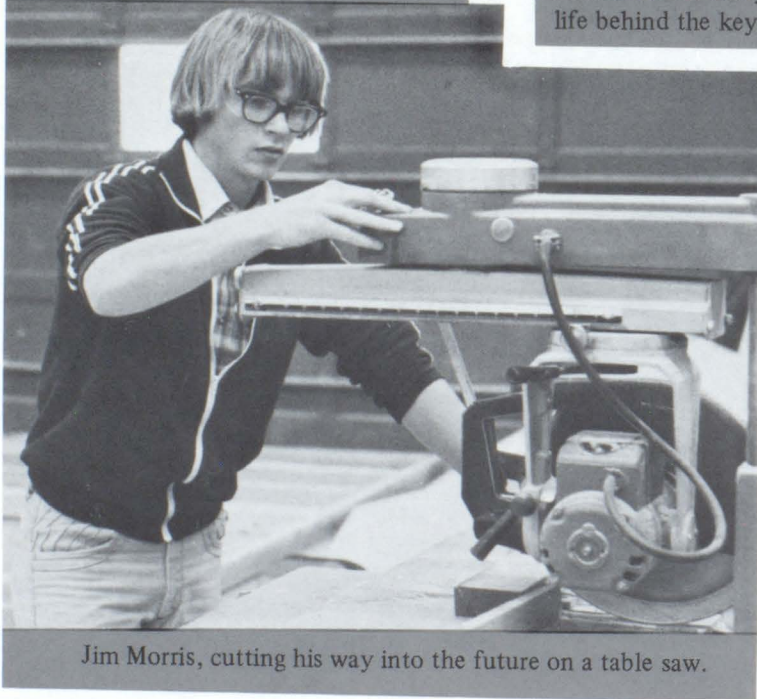

Nancy Wessel is a key puncher in data processing.

Students from all over St. Clair County attend the St. Clair County Skill Center which offers them a chance to develop skills toward future job goals.

Students must first meet certain requirements before they may attend. They must be 15½ years old, must complete the MOIS search and must have a desire to use these skills for their career. Skill Center students are guided in their decision by the Memphis H.S. Counselor, and the Skill Center Representative Mr. Dale Ropp.

Sue Barron & Terry Kostiuk in the data processing department show us a life behind the key punch.

COOKING PLUS

"Cleanliness is our duty!" say Lola Parker and Marla Cottington.

"We have to keep things where they belong," says Mrs. McGuire.

Hard at work? Connie Dalecki and Kathy Hudema stop to pose for the camera before serving lunches.

Mrs. Zukas controls the situation. She likes to see things put where they belong!

Cooking has more to it than preparing lunches. The instructor, "Ma" Zukas teaches students cleanliness, responsibility, commercial quantity cooking which is the same type of cooking technique restaurants use, and "most important," according to Ma is health and safety.

The Voc. Foods class cooks for all the students attending Memphis Community Schools.

Students are prepared so well they may obtain a job in a restaurant because restaurants teach the same techniques Ma does.

STAFF

The first two quarters of this year were difficult for all of us because the millage had failed three times but finally passed on November 7th. Because of this failure many of our programs were cut.

The library program was reinstated on November 8th and Mrs. Burch, our librarian, soon had the library running smoothly. One of the many services Mrs. Burch provides is recovering worn paperback book covers. Mrs. Burch also gives the Middle School and Freshmen students a presentation on the books which the library has.

Keeping the school in shape is part of a custodians' job. Afternoon members of the High School staff who were not photographed are Barb Bologna and Annie Stork.

These very friendly ladies along with Jack Cottingham, Bill Canvoy, and Dave Flippin are always on their toes trying to keep everything in tip-top condition.

In order to relieve Mr. Mrozinski of his extra duties, Ms. Robinson was also reinstated after the millage passed. Among the things Ms. Robinson had to do was to counsel the students and begin the rescheduling. But at the end of the first semester Ms. Robinson left Memphis High School for another job offer.

Mrs. Patterson our previous Family Life and English teacher filled the empty counseling position. Some of the jobs Mrs. Patterson has been tackling includes computing each student's grade point average, organizing Career Plan Folders for each student that helps with future job applications, rescheduling and counseling the students.

- 1) Dave Flippin takes a break after shoveling the snow off the school's sidewalks.
- 2) Stamping books is just one of the little things Mrs. Burch does for the school.
- 3) "Smile Bill," asks our cameraman. Bill is one of our helpful custodians.
- 4) Our quick cameraman sneaks a picture of Jack Cottingham as he works in the school.
- 5) Ms. Robinson busily helps the students reschedule.
- 6) Mrs. Patterson takes over the counseling position.

New this year is a 12 point grading system. In previous years student scores were computed on a 4 point scale. A “D” was worth one point, an “A” was worth four points.

The 12 point grading system allows the pluses and minuses to be tabulated into the overall grade point average. Thus an “A-” is worth ten points and an “A+” is worth twelve points. It gives students the incentive to try and obtain the highest grades possible.

Vice President, Lynn Morgan proved helpful to the yearbook class when she volunteered to pose for a before-and-after picture in our ad section of this book.

The Fred Vincent award was earned by Treasurer Sean Marnon, quarterback on the varsity football team. He participated in basketball as a guard.

"Trying something I've never done before was one reason for running for the office of secretary", Carmen Berlinger stated. An active cheerleader, Carmen also helped organize the senior play.

The Sophomore class officers, above, are Secretary Molly Lozen, Vice President Sharon Soles, President Walter Caughel, and Treasurer Barb Huber. Although they gave a good fight in Homecoming Competitions, the Sophomores came in last place. They made up for it though by making over $1,000.00 in the lightbulb sale at the beginning of the year. A candy sale and car washes also helped in raising the funds. The whole Sophomore class would like to thank sponsors Mrs. Zukas and Ms. Mason for all the help they gave.

SPIRIT

The 1978-79 Freshmen Class, led by President, Dave Dirven, Vice President, Rose Barron, Secretary, Sue Miller, and Treasurer, John Morgan, are very proud of their great efforts and victorious winning of the Spirit Jug, during Homecoming Week. With the help of their sponsors, Mrs. Jefferies and Mr. Lesinski, they have many money raising plans for the future. Also active in this class are Margie Mrozinski, Kathy Birchmeier, and Kenneth Rhodes who represented them in Student Council.

LATE ARRIVALS

After the millage passed on Nov. 7, 1978 several classes were reinstated. Our new teachers deserve recognition for their services so this last page is dedicated to them.

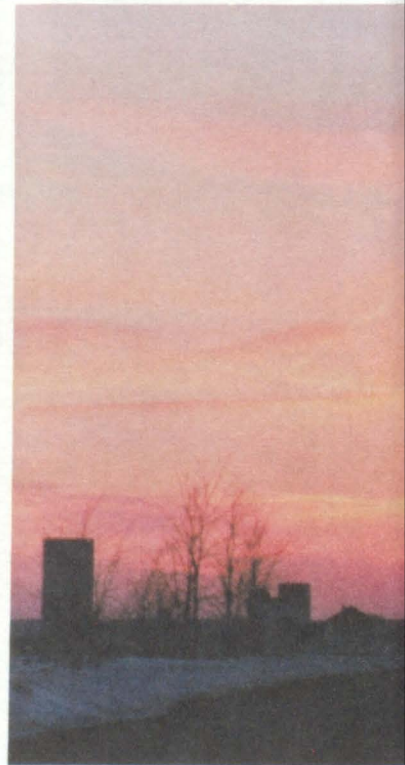

1) Art Classes started 2nd semester with Mr. Phillips teaching them. He graduated from Eastern with a major in Art Education and a Master's of Educational Administration. 2) Miss Cook took over the Family Life Classes with the addition of the Foods Class. She is a graduate of Eastern with a major in Home Economic Education. 3) Band & Choir were returned under Mr. Koch. He is a graduate of Central Mi. University with a major in Music Education. 4) Business Math and Office Practice & Typing II are being taught by Mrs. Wessel. She is a graduate of Central Mi. and has a major in Business Education. 5) Mr. Isabelle took over the Science 9 Classes and Ecology. He has his Bachelor's in Science.
